Gov. Nash Arrived from Columbus on a Special Car Monday.

First Regiment Arrives With Colors Draped Owing to Col. Bundy's Death--Where Troops Are Encamped--The Routine--Officers Present--Day's Events.

Camp McKinley, Aug. 17.—Gov. Nash reached camp this afternoon at 2:55 on a special Buckeye Lake parlor car.

Camp McKinley, Aug. 17.—Before sundown today the First Division company of the Ohio National Guard will be a complete fact. When the guard is mounted this evening there will be in Camp William McKinley about 6000 men, representing every branch of the service. The infantry, "dough boys," the cavalry, "hoss soldiers," the artillery, "big boys," the engineers, the men who handle the big guns; the men of the signal corps; the hospital corps and the battalion of colored infantry—"Buffalo" soldiers, as they used to call them out west.

The camp began to take shape nearly a week ago, for handling a division is a matter of days not hours. The latter half of last week was indeed a time as busy as even this present week can be, though the busy ones were few in number. They were the engineers laying out the camp and then a little later the advance details working on the lines the engineers had made. There is nothing of haphazard, or chance about Camp Wm. McKinley. It was all thought out.

Newark people are more or less concerned with the appearance of the state's tented fields, but some changes will be enacted this year from former years. These are due entirely to the fact that this year's camp is larger than former ones. Heretofore not more than one brigade has camped at once. This year nearly two and a half brigades, if it may be so stated, are together. Heretofore the field within the octagon has been kept clear for parades, reviews and drills. This year that field is thickly dotted with tents and within the ancient embankment are the quarters of nearly 3,000 men. That is to say, the Second Brigade, Brig. Gen. John C. Speaks, commanding, is within the octagon. The First Brigade, Brig. Gen. W. V. McMaken, commanding is over to the west, in the circle, the old location for use in parades and reviews, the state has rented a great field to the east of the camp. Spacious as the regular grounds are, neither the circle nor octagon is large enough to permit the maneuvering of a division.

Commanding the whole is Major General Charles Dick, of Akron. His headquarters are in almost the exact center of the camp, in the grove so well known to all visitors. During the week General Dick himself, however, will have a superior officer, as Gov. Geo. K. Nash will spend some days in camp. The Governor's tent will be in the grove south of the division headquarters tents. All those who have witnessed the parades in former years will regret to know that the Governor will not be seen on horseback this year. His health and strength are such that he cannot attempt to ride. The Governor made a fine figure on his big, black horse and added distinctly and appreciably to the spectacle.

Though to the soldier, the pomp and show of parade are less in importance than almost all other details of camp, to the average visitor the fact of overtopping interest is dress parade or review. So it will be welcome news to thousands that the camp of 1903 will not be lacking in that feature. There will be regimental dress parades daily, except when bigger pageants are on the program; there will be brigade reviews of both brigades on probably two days at least and there will be at least one division review. This last will be a distinct novelty. Not many persons, soldiers or civilians know, personally of the marshalling of 6,000 men. This will be the big event of the encampment and, as is fitting, it will crown the closing of the camp. It is not known on what day it will occur, but it will be toward the very end of the week and ample notice of it will be given.

THE ARRIVAL

Order in Which the Various Troops Reached Camp.

Sunday at daylight saw the arrival of the Second Infantry, Col. Bryant closely followed by the Sixth, Colonel Howard commanding.

The Second regiment is from Lima, Findlay, Kenton, and other towns in that section. It came over the T. & O. C. through Columbus, to Showman's. There the men detrained and a little actual soldiering was indulged in, as the distance from Showman's to the camp was marched. The men made the two miles in good time and came into camp in good shape. The march ended in the circle and the boys went to work at once and soon had their tents up and every thing working smoothly.

Hardly had the Second arrived when the Sixth came in. This regiment comes from a section just north of the Second, four companies and headquarters being located at Toledo. They were livelier than the Second and though they came in a little later than this regiment, they had their tents up before them.

During the day a part of the artillery arrived. The Columbus battery, though nearest camp, will probably be last to arrive. They are coming overland from the capital. They camped Sunday night at Elina.

After the Sixth regiment arrived on Sunday morning, there was a lull in arrivals until about 3 p. m. when half of the Fifth regiment, Colonel Zimmerman, came in. This organization is from Cleveland, and vicinity. Three hours later the Colonel of the regiment came in. The two trains came down the Big Four to Martel, and then down the T. & O. C. to Showman's. The Second regiment camps in the circle, the Sixth just north of the circle, both being in the First Brigade. The Fifth is in the Octagon, at the southeast part. The Fifth is in the Second Brigade.

Monday morning bright and early two regiments made camp. These were the First, from Cincinnati, which left its popular Colonel, Wm. E. Bundy, cold in death at home, Lieut. Col. Hake commanding, and the Fourth, Colonel Ammel commanding. The First marched to their camp, just south of the circle and the Fourth went to the octagon. The First is in the First Brigade, the Eighth in the Second.

With these arrivals, more than half the infantry is in camp. The regiments not yet in are the Third, Dayton; Eighth, Akron, and Seventh, Ironton. In addition to the artillery and part of the cavalry are yet to come.

LOCATION OF TROOPS.

The layman finds difficulty in mastering the location of the troops, and a little information will perhaps make this easier. The guard is divided into two Brigades, the First and Second. The division is made on geographical lines and not with reference to the number of the organization though the numerals nearly fall into the corresponding column. A line is drawn north and south through Columbus. The troops west of this line constitute the First Brigade, those east the Second Brigade. Similarly the troops of the First Brigade, those from the west side of the state, are on the west side of Camp McKinley. That is, m. or north and south of the circle. These are the First regiment, Cincinnati; the Third, Dayton; the Second, Lima, and the Sixth, Toledo. The Ninth Battalion of colored troops is in this Brigade also. Brigadier General McMaken commands this Brigade.

The troops from the eastern half of the state, which constitute the Second Brigade and which are in the eastern half of the camp, in the octagon, are the Fourth regiment, Columbus; the Fifth, Cleveland, the Seventh, Ironton; the Eighth, Bucyrus, and the Engineers. Brigadier General Spooks commands this Brigade. Newark's G is in the Fourth regiment.

The Hospital service, is, of course, scattered over the whole camp, each regiment having a hospital and in addition there are Brigade hospitals.

OFFICERS

And the Organizations They Command at Division Camp McKinley, Aug. 17-24, 1903.

The commanders and the organizations they command are as follows:

Major Gen. Chas. F. Dick, commanding the Division.

fantry; Weaver, 1st brigade; McMurray; 4th Infantry; Drake 7th Infantry; Russ 1st Infantry; Guerlin, 2nd Brigade, Smith 8th Infantry, Deputy 3rd Infantry; Love, 5th Infantry.

Captains and Assistant Surgeons, McComb, Battery H, Hendry, Engineers; Stewart, 5th Infantry; Snyder, 6th Infantry; Grondol, Battery B, Taylor, 4th Infantry; Shepard, 4th Infantry; Evans, 3rd Infantry; Shaffer, 3rd Infantry; Hord, 6th Infantry; Keller 7th Infantry; Knauss, 4th Infantry; Olson, 7th Infantry; Johnson, 2nd Infantry; Darby, 5th Infantry; Davis, Battery A; Macready 1st Infantry; Lightner, 1st Infantry; Swigart, 2nd Infantry; Rathert, Battery B; Burkett Troop B; Smith, 5th Infantry; Burns 9th Battalion, Bearlin, 5th Infantry; Wright, 7th Infantry; Herrick, Troop A; Scalick, 1st Infantry; Stewart, 6th Infantry; Pitken, 5th Infantry.

TARGET PRACTICE.

It is doubtful whether there will be any target practice this week but an order provides for target practice on the 1000 yard range here four days after the encampment ends, August 24. Some time ago the regimental commands were instructed to select six men, the independent commands two each and each company commander his best shot and each troop commander the two best marksmen to constitute a detachment for competition for places on state team. There is objection to target practice this week because the rifle range is not far from the ground where tents are pitched and a few stray shots might result in the injury of some of the men.

THE DICK BILL.

There is an impression among many Newark people that the new Dick bill

SLIGHTS TO MILES

Win Veterans Sympathy--Boom for Commander-in-Chief Launched but it is Believed That General John C. Black Will be Elected to Leadership.

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—The candidacy of General Nelson A. Miles for Commander in Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, has been launched formally. The Connecticut delegation which comprises many men who bore arms in different campaigns, announced that it would support him and carry his fight on at the encampment. And there are assurances from other big delegations that the man who commanded the United States Army should receive the united support of all comrades.

The Connecticut delegation is particularly enthusiastic for General Miles. The members of the delegation declare that General Miles was with them in the early war, and many of them remember some particularly fierce Indian campaigns in which the General acquitted himself with great skill. So they are willing again to march under his leadership. But probably more impetus was given to the Miles movement when the army clique sought to snub the Commander in Chief during the closing days of his Generalship than by any other consideration.

The G. A. R. remembers the reported slights heaped upon General Miles, and the delegates are preparing to resent them in more ways than one. A resolution has been prepared and will be submitted to the encampment, strongly denouncing the President's policy with reference to the army, particularly his promotion of General Wood, without considering either the merits of the service of men tried and true, who have worn the blue for many, many years. This resolution is in the hands of the Connecticut delegation, and it purposes pressing it to passage. In any event a fair expression of the disapproval of the army clique's methods will be obtained.

And while Connecticut is espousing the candidacy of General Miles, it has a lively fight all its own. A rival delegation, headed by former Governor Bulkeley, of Connecticut, has reached this city and is demanding recognition. The claim is made is made that Bulkeley aspired to honors, and finding his home delegation not over enthusiastic in his behalf, he packed up another lot of veterans and brought them West in a special train. So things will be interesting when the encampment meets, but the adherents of General Miles assert that their candidate will not suffer in the least.

But no matter how hard the different delegations may strive to promote General Miles to be Commander, the General himself modestly refrains from stating his position. He was asked to say if he were a candidate, and this was his reply:

"It is too high an honor for any man to seek—or to refuse."

He smiled at the last three words, but not another word would he say, except this:

"General Black is a competent man and bears an excellent Civil war record."

General Miles would not discuss either national politics or his retirement from the army.

While General Miles will surely be given a complimentary vote it is generally believed that General Black will be elected Commander in Chief.

While the formal exercises of the National reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic did not begin until today, the encampment was to all intents and purposes opened Sunday, with the arrival of General Thomas J. Stewart, Commander in Chief, on a special train bearing 365 members of the different Pennsylvania posts. Other distinguished arrivals were General Nelson A. Miles and General John C. Black, who is most prominently spoken of as the next Commander in Chief of the G. A. R. Trains arrived all day bringing many members and veterans. The registration bureau and information booths were thronged all day. It will be Tuesday before all incoming trains will have arrived, and on Wednesday, the day set for the parade, it is estimated that there will be fully $50,000 veterans in the city.

Tonight the local post will inaugurate the encampment with the reception to the veterans.

WATCHWORD "WORK."

When Gen. Dick was asked what the watchword of this year's camp was to be, he said, "Same as it has always been, 'Work,'" and the entire camp seems to be in accord with the commander. The officers are determined that the camp of '03 shall be up to the standard.

RIVER

At Kansas City is Still Rising—The Third Bridge Was Swept Away There Monday.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 17.—The James street wagon and street car bridge across the Kaw river between the two Kansas Cities went out with the flood this morning, making three gone. The new gas mains and telephone cables went with the structure. All other bridges remain in great danger and traffic between the two cities again is by boat. The river still is rising.

Sparks Wanted.

Johnstown, Aug. 17.—Frank Sparks, of Sunbury, is badly wanted here on the charge of attempted assault on Miss Kate Elbon, 25 years old. It is rumored that Sparks has gone to Marion. He will probably be arrested. It is said that when Miss Elbon resented his proposal she left his buggy.

PARALYSIS

PROF. OTTO ENGWERSON HAS BEEN STRICKEN.

He Was in Philadelphia en Route to Europe—May Continue the Journey Abroad.

Mr. J. C. Campbell of Columbus, has received a letter containing the information that Professor Otto Engwerson who left a few days ago with a party for Europe, suffered a stroke of paralysis at the railway station in Philadelphia on Thursday.

Professor Engwerson was taken to the Pennsylvania hospital, where he seemed to improve. The physicians, after examining the patient and learning of the plans of the party, considered that there could be nothing better for the patient than to make a trip which they were then going to New York to take. The intention of the party, when the letter was written was to proceed to New York and to sail Monday, according to the original intention. Mrs. Engwerson is a member of the party.

Prof. Engwerson is well known in Newark's musical circles. For several years he was at the head of the musical department of Shepardson college for women at Granville.

AMUSEMENTS.

There has not been for years, a more popular comic opera than "The Mikado," and for years the interest in its rendition has never waned. The music is characteristic of the Flowery Kingdom, and is written in Sullivan's best style which is equivalent to saying that it is the acme of perfection in comic opera composition.

The rendition of the Japanese opera Sunday night, by the opera company now playing at Idlewild Park under the management of Clarence M. Parker, was greeted with an audience which filled every seat and all the standing room.

The Mikado music is all good, but there are several of the numbers which are acknowledged to be operatic gems, and these received the hearty applause of the audience.

Those who see the Mikado will be gratified at the great amount and variety of the music. It abounds in solos, duets, trios and quartets, while the choruses are numerous and have a variety that is always pleasing.

The scenery at Idlewild for this production is that used at the Great Southern at Columbus for the Mikado, and was bought by Manager Harris for this week's engagement. It is by long odds the prettiest stage setting that has ever been seen at the park, and lends much to the pleasure of the production. The following is the cast of characters:

- The Mikado, emperor of Japan. Clarence M. Parker.
- Nanki-Poo, his son, Harry Lea Velle.
- Ko-Ko, Lord High Executioner, Jack Leslie.
- Poo Bah, Lord High Everything, Evron Bronti.
- Fish Tush, a Noble Lord, E. E. Morton.

ALWAYS TIRED NEVER RESTED

To be tired out from hard work or bodily exercise is natural and rest is the remedy, but there is an exhaustion without physical exertion and a tired, never-rested feeling—a weariness without work that is unnatural and shows some serious disorder is threatening the health. One of the chief causes of that "Always-tired, never-rested condition" is impure blood and bad circulation. Unless the body is nourished with rich, pure blood there is lack of nervous force, the muscles become weak, the digestion impaired, and general disorder occurs throughout the system. Debility, insomnia, nervousness, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, strength and energy, and the hundreds of little ailments we often have are due directly to a bad condition of the blood and circulation, and the quickest way to get rid of them is by purifying and building up the blood, and for this purpose no remedy equals S. S. S., which contains the best ingredients for cleansing the blood and toning up the system. It is a vegetable blood purifier and tonic combined, that enriches the blood, and through it the entire system is nourished and refreshing sleep comes to the tired, never-rested, body.

CHAPTER XVII.

HOW THE PINTO SOLD.

THE glow of virtuous feeling following the performance of their generous act prepared the men for a keener enjoyment than usual of a night's sport. They had just begun to dispose themselves in groups about the fire for poker and other games when Hi rode up into the light and with him a stranger on Gwen's beautiful pinto pony.

Hi was evidently half drunk, and, as he swung himself off his bronco, he saluted the company with a wave of the hand and hoped he saw them "kickin'."

Bill, looking curiously at Hi, went up to the pinto, and, taking him by the head, led him up into the light, saying:

"See here, boys, there's that pinto of mine I was tellin' you about. No flies on him, eh?"

"Hold on there! Excuse me," said the stranger, "this here hoss belongs to me, if paid down money means anything in this country."

"The country's all right," said Bill in an ominously quiet voice, "but this here pinto's another transaction, I reckon."

"The hoss is mine, I say, and what's more, I'm goin' to hold him," said the stranger in a loud voice.

The men began to crowd around with faces growing hard. It was dangerous in that country to play fast and loose with horses.

"Look a-hyar, mates," said the stranger, with a Yankee drawl, "I ain't no hoss thief, and if I hain't bought this hoss reg'lar and paid down good money then it ain't mine; if I have, it is. That's fair, ain't it?"

At this Hi pulled himself together and in a half drunken tone declared that the stranger was all right and that he had bought the horse fair and square, and "there's your dust," said Hi, handing a roll to Bill. But with a quick movement Bill caught the stranger by the leg, and before a word could be said he was lying flat on the ground.

"You git off that pony," said Bill, "till this thing is settled."

There was something so terrible in Bill's manner that the man contented himself with blustering and swearing, while Bill, turning to Hi, said:

"Did you sell this pinto to him?"

Hi was able to acknowledge that, being offered a good price and knowing that his partner was always ready for a deal, he had transferred the pinto to the stranger for $40.

Bill was in distress, deep and poignant. "Tain't the horse, but the leetle gel," he explained; but his partner's bargain was his, and wrathful as he was he refused to attempt to break the bargain.

At this moment the Hon. Fred, noting the unusual excitement about the fire, came up, followed at a little distance by his wife and the Duke.

"Perhaps he'll sell," he suggested.

"No," said Bill sullenly, "he's a mean cuss."

"I know him," said the Hon. Fred. "Let me try him." But the stranger declared the pinto suited him down to the ground and he wouldn't take twice his money for him.

"Why," he protested, "that there's what I call an unusual hoss, and down in Montana for a lady he'd fetch up to a hundred and fifty dollars." In vain they haggled and bargained. The man was immovable. Eighty dollars he wouldn't look at; a hundred hardly made him hesitate. At this point Lady Charlotte came down into the light and stood by her husband, who exclaimed:

He was lying flat on the ground, plained the circumstances to her. She had already heard Bill's description of Gwen's accident and of her part in the church building schemes. There was silence for a few moments as she stood looking at the beautiful pony.

"What a shame the poor child should have to part with the dear little creature!" she said in a low tone to her husband. Then, turning to the stranger, she said in clear, sweet tones:

"What do you ask for him?" He hesitated and then said, lifting his hat awkwardly in salute, "I was just remarkin' how that pinto would fetch $150 down into Montana; but, gee'n' as a lady is figurin', I'll put him down to $10."

"Too much," she said promptly; "far too much, is it not, Bill?"

"Well," drawled Bill, "if 'twere a fellow as was used to ladies he'd offer you the pinto, but he's too pizen mean even to come down to the even hundred."

The Yankee took him up quickly. "Waal, if I were so blanked—pardon, madam," taking off his hat—"used to ladies as some folks would like to think themselves, I'd bay that there pinto and make a present of it to this here lady as stands before me." Bill twisted uneasily.

"But I ain't goin' to be mean. I'll put that pinto in for the even money for the lady if any man cares to put up the stuff."

"Well, my dear," said the Hon. Fred, with a bow, "we cannot well let that gage lie." She turned and smiled at him, and the pinto was transferred to the Ashley stables, to Bill's outspoken delight, who declared he couldn't have faced the music "if that there pinto had gone across the line." I confess, however, I was somewhat surprised at the ease with which Hi escaped his wrath, and my surprise was in no way lessened when I saw later in the evening the two partners with the stranger taking a quiet drink out of the same bottle with evident mutual admiration and delight.

"You're an AI coker, you are! I'll be thanked if you ain't a bird—a singin' bird, a reg'lar canary," I heard Hi say to Bill.

But Bill's only reply was a long, slow wink which passed into a frown as he caught my eye. My suspicion was aroused that the sale of the pinto might bear investigation, and this suspicion was deepened when Gwen next week gave me a rapturous account of how splendidly Bill had disposed of the pinto, showing me bills for $150. To my look of amazement Gwen replied:

"You see, he must have got them bidding against each other, and besides, Bill says pintos are going up."

Light began to dawn upon me, but I only answered that I knew they had risen very considerably in value within a month. The extra fifty was Bill's. I was not present to witness the finishing of Bill's bluff, but was told that when Bill made his way through the crowded aisle and laid his $50 on the schoolhouse desk the look of disgust, surprise and finally of pleasure on Robbie's face was worth a hundred more. But Robbie was ready and put down his $200 with the single remark: "Aye, ye're no as daft as ye look!" and roars of laughter from all.

Then the Pilot, with eyes and face shining, rose and thanked them all, but when he told of how the little girl in her lonely shack in the hills thought so much of the church that she gave up for it her beloved pony, her one possession, the light from his eyes glowed in the eyes of all.

MAIL DELIVERING DEVICE.

Automatic Machine Designed Especially For Rural Service.

Nelson S. Howell of Cumming, Madison county, Ga., has a working model eighty rods long of an automatic mail delivery and collection apparatus, which is built according to a device which he recently had patented and is working satisfactorily. Says a dispatch from Red Oak, Ga., to the Chicago Record-Herald: It is designed especially for rural mail service, supplanting carriers, but seems to be capable of development to an extent that would do away with many of the country post offices and centralize the handling of mail to a great extent, expediting the service, reducing the number of carriers and clerks and greatly reducing expense.

The apparatus consists of an endless cable, carried on poles and delivering and collecting mail by clockwork. The cable in a line thirty miles long can be operated by a one and a half horse power gasoline engine, and the cable can be operated at a speed which will permit as many deliveries in a day as are desired. The power is applied by a drum. The deliveries are regulated automatically. For instance, if there are fifty patrons on the endless chain route the mail pouch of No. 1 drops at his mail box, while the other forty-nine pouches are carried on, each dropping at its respective place. The collections are also made automatically. The apparatus is not intricate and does not readily get out of order.

BOOKBINDER MILLER.

Government Employee to Whom Attention Has Been Drawn.

The case of W. A. Miller, assistant foreman in the bookbinding of the United States government printing office, who was dismissed from the department and subsequently reinstated by order of President Roosevelt, has aroused a great deal of public interest because of its possible bearing on the future relations of the government with labor unions.

Mr. Miller was a member of the bookbinders' union when charges of unfairness were brought against him. He was expelled by the union and, following his expulsion, was dismissed by Public Printer Frank W. Palmer, whereupon his reinstatement was ordered by the president.

It is stated that the matter may result in a complete investigation of conditions in the printing establishment.

Behind Her Back.

"She's very studious," said one woman.

"Yes," answered the other.

"And doesn't seem to care for gossiping in the least."

"Oh, I don't know about that," answered the other with a sniff. "She merely prefers to talk about Helen of Troy and Rome and Juliet to paying attention to what is going on in her own neighborhood."—Washington Star.

Aunt Dinah's OLD VIRGINIA Herb Tea

FOR MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS.

Every woman who has a daughter knows well the anxiety and worry which always comes at that period of life when girlhood merges into womanhood.

AUNT DINAH'S OLD VIRGINIA HERB TEA is of the greatest assistance to nature in bringing about this change without a disturbing the natural functions of the system. It will keep the roses in a girl's cheeks. It is a strengthening tonic and prevents that tendency to decline which so often endangers the lives of girls at this critical point in development.

This Herb Tea is likewise of corresponding value and assistance to mothers and daughters at the end of this period. The use of the Tea will, at the time of the change of life, prevent endless pain and worry. A woman will enter the "evening of life" with scarcely the knowledge that the change has occurred.

Try this tea and profit by the experience of many grateful women who have tested its merits.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney poisons and blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both Home of Swamp-Root, sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

MOTHER AND FLIES.

Or there's an inch of space
Between the window and the screen
That ought to be in place.
And every time that this occurs
A lot of pesky flies are chased.
Improve the chance and sail right in
For household exercise.

Now, if there's anything on earth
That mother hates to see
It's just a fly that sours around
And in the house makes five.
So when she sees a bunch of them
She glares in sad surprise;
Then loudly she ejaculates,
"The house is full of flies!"

There's something doing right away.
For mother grabs in haste
A dusting cloth or some such thing.
And then those flies are chased.
Around the room and up and down,
From ceiling to the floor.
They go, while mother in pursuit,
No matter how they soar.

At times a fearful crash is heard
While mother's chasing flies;
A vase from shelf or mantelpiece
Is knocked and shattered lies.
But there's no time to waste in grief
Over ornament thus lost.
Because those flies must be expelled,
No matter what the cost.

So up and down and all around
The room proceeds the chase.
While mother tries to "catch" the flies
Where there's an open place.
At last that spot is reached, and then
'Tis hard to hide a grin.
For while one fly goes soaring out
From three to five soar in.

Some think there's no excitement round
A house in summer time.
That life is then a dull routine
As sluggish as the climate.
But that they've made a big mistake
They soon would realize
If they'd drop in about the time
When mother's chasing flies.

New Dictionary.

Webster's New Standard Dictionary is the title of a new lexicon just issued by Laird & Lee, Chicago. Only a very progressive and resourceful firm could hope to be successful in the attempt to launch a new style of dictionary upon a market already well stocked with similar works. The new book is certainly a surprise in every way. Even the exterior deviates from the beaten track. Instead of a ponderous black or homely sheepskin, it presents itself in a handsome half-leather binding with an appropriate design pressed in gold; on lifting the cover, richly tinted endpapers greet the eye, bearing the seals of all the United States and Territories; the frontispiece which represents the Muse of Learning, is a work of art in colors, and prepares the mind for many other beautiful, full-page colored illustrations of great educational value, the like of which has never been seen in a dictionary. The human race according to Huxley, are presented on a finely executed double page plate in beautiful color work, showing at a glance the various principal types of man. A two page map in six colors gives the boundary line of the original 13 states, the Louisiana Purchase etc., and the new possessions. Precious stones and ores are shown in their natural brilliant hues, also the Flags of the Nations; but the most meritorious of all the colored work seems to be that of the sun spectrum and other spectra, which is seldom seen in such perfection.

An examination of the dictionary itself fully upholds the excellent impression produced by the first glance. The type is exceptionally clear, the definitions are concise and comprehensive, pronunciation marked for every word, etymology made interesting by giving the meaning of the root word where it is not self-explanatory, synonyms well selected and amplified by cross references.

At the end of the dictionary proper follows a remarkable number of encyclopedic features: Dictionaries of biography, biblical and classical names, musical terms, abbreviations, foreign phrases, metric system tables and a page on proofreading.

738 pages. Both editions thumb-indexed. Library edition half leather, gold stamped, marbled edges, $2.50. School edition, silk cloth, stamped in two inks, stained edges $1.50.

NEW EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The new Democratic County Executive Committee selected by the County Central Committee at its meeting on Saturday is one of the best committees ever selected in the county to manage a Democratic campaign. Every member on the committee is a well known Democratic worker, and will work for the best interests of the party. The committee has not as yet effected an organization, but it is quite probable that Sheriff Wm. H. Anderson will be selected as its chairman. The Executive committee is composed of the following gentlemen:

Seth Alberty, Jersey township.
Eugene Moore, Lima township.
C. L. V. Holtz, Madison township.
David Hatch, Bennington township.
F. P. Householder, Washington township.
James Davis, Licking township.
From the city—Wm. H. Anderson, Jr., Edward W. Crayton, P. B. Smythe, E. D. Everts, P. J. Sullivan.

MEMORANDUM

Issued by Bulgaria to the Powers Giving Causes for Discontent and Revolt Against Oppression of the Turks.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 17.—The Bulgarian government has presented a memorandum to the powers, setting out at length the condition of affairs during the past three months in Macedonia since the Turkish government undertook to inaugurate the promised reforms.

The Bulgarian government guaranteed the absolute truth of every statement and challenges the ports to disprove a single charge in the memorandum.

The memorandum begins by stating that during the past three months the Ottoman government has taken a series of measures with the alleged intention of inaugurating the promised reforms.

Instead of proceeding solely against persons guilty of breaches of the public order, the military and civil authorities have sought every possible pretext to persecute, terrorize and ruin the Bulgarian inhabitants.

Wholesale massacres, individual murders, the destruction of villages, the pillaging and setting fire to houses, the arrests, ill treatment, tortures, arbitrary imprisonment and banishment, the closing and disorganizing of churches and schools, the ruining of merchants, the collection of taxes for many years in advance—such, proceeds the memorandum, are among the acts of the Ottoman administration of the villages of Salonica, Monastir, Uskub and Adrianople.

The memorandum next relates in detail a number of such cases in each village.

One hundred and twenty soldiers entered the village of Gorna Ribnita May 19, and tortured to death five men and two women.

During July 25 villages in the district of Tikvesh were subjected to the depredations of the Turkish soldiers.

At the beginning of July two Greek

FAVORITISM

SHOWN TO GEN. WOOD MAY DEFEAT ROOSEVELT IN 1904.

War Secretary Root Proved Wrong by Records—Deep Seated Feeling Among G. A. R. Veterans.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The opinion is increasing here that the favoritism shown General Wood will be sufficient to defeat the nomination of President Roosevelt in 1904. The resentment of civil war veterans is deep and cannot be appeased.

When the Grand Army took umbrage at the elevation of Wood to a Major General, Secretary Root and General Wood's friends generally took the ground that it was a case of necessity and of law.

Secretary of War Root contended that it was an obligation on the part of the War department to elevate Wood to a Major Generalcy because he had become head of the Brigadiers and there was a vacancy.

Here however, are some facts: In January, 1901, James Wade was at the head of the Brigadier list. Notwithstanding that fact he was kept at the head of Brigadiers and S. M. B. Young, Arthur MacArthur, William Ludlow and Chaffee were jumped up to Major Generals over the head of Wade. Thus Brigadier General Wade was kept stationary for two years, while the War department and the White House were playing the game of "selection" instead of taking officials by "seniority."

These facts absolutely dispose of the last argument of the friends, relatives and acquaintances of General Leonard Wood.

Another thing that will probably rise up to plague the administration is that Charles G. Ayres is yet only a Major of Cavalry. Major Ayres was a Captain when he led the Tenth Cavalry to the rescue of the Rough Riders at Las Guasimas. No one has been able to explain why a brave officer like Ayres has been overlooked.

COL. MEADE REBUKED.

Gallant Officer of the Marine Corps to be Retired for Asking Favor.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Army officers and naval officers alike are contrasting the practical rebuke to Colonel L.

bands with the connivance of the authorities pillaged Bulgarian villages and murdered many of their inhabitants.

In Uskub the entire Bulgarian population has been systematically persecuted since last May.

In the districts of Patanka, Koshani, Koumanovo, and Gostigar, the prisons are filled with Bulgarian priests, schoolmasters and merchants.

During June soldiers and Bashis Bazuks terrorized the inhabitants of the Schitfi district, torturing the people with redhot irons.

The memorandum gives particulars of 131 cases of outrages committed by the Turkish authorities.

At Smerdesch over 200 Bulgarians were shot, killed with swords or burned to death. Over 250 houses and the churches and schools were set on fire with petroleum and pillaged.

The estimates obtainable give for the village of Salonica 900 prisoners, for Uskub 500, for Monastir 850 and for Adrianople 550, a grand total of 2800. As information is lacking from many districts in these villages it is thought that without exaggeration the number of prisoners may be placed at even three times this total.

FEAR MORE MURDERS.

Constantinople, Aug. 17.—The British ambassador has called the attention of the ports to the serious situation in Macedonia. He pointed out that grave consequences may attend fresh murders of consuls or foreign subjects.

The ambassador had an audience with the sultan on Friday.

BUYS 32 BATTERIES.

Constantinople, Aug. 17.—The Ottoman government has concluded negotiations with the Krupp works for the supply of 32 batteries of quick firing artillery, each consisting of six guns.

Meade of the Marine Corps by the President with the continuous promotions of General Leonard Wood, who was in the field actually only a few months in Cuba, while Colonel Meade has had fifteen years and two months sea service alone.

Colonel Meade is a bluff old marine, who is extremely popular with the old style soldier and sailor of the civil war and Spanish war periods. Colonel Meade entered the service June 21, 1862, and would have served out his full limit under the law in 1905.

Recently it occurred to the gallant old officer to ask that he be retired with the rank of Brigadier—that is the next higher rank. A matter of great moment was made of this request, and it was referred to the Attorney General, and there were conferences about it at the Navy department. The result of it all was that the application of Colonel Meade was denied.

This angered Colonel Meade, who wrote a sharp letter to the department, saying substantially that he might have expected such an answer, that he never got anything he had asked for and asked that the department forthwith return him his papers. This was considered a case of lese majeste.

It was reported to the President and the martinets began to get in their work. Colonel Meade was then up against it and he asked that he be allowed to retire in 1905, when he should have rounded out his possible service in the marine corps.

A PLEA

For Married Men—Indiana Mayor Says They Are More Patient and Less Apt to Strike.

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 17.—Cupid's right bower, Mayor Knotts, of Hammond, has again championed the cause of matrimony. Bachelors, says the Mayor, are a detriment to a community, while married men are valuable assets.

Mayor Knotts a year ago offered to marry free all couples residing in Hammond, and to give them moral and other support in establishing their homes. Then he evolved the idea of boycotting bachelors and placing a premium on married men, so on Saturday he mailed to the heads of every business and manufacturing enterprise in Hammond an open letter pleading with them to employ only married men, and to keep single men on probation only in case they showed an inclination toward matrimony.

In his letter Mayor Knotts argued that during the years of labor trouble in Hammond it has been notorious that the single men were the first to start trouble and to take strike. Married men, he declared, are more patient and long suffering, and less likely to go to work on unjustified strikes. The Mayor states that single men do not make as good citizens. He declares they are reckless, inclined to waste fulness in spending; that they come into a town when a new enterprise is started, and usually, after a short and reckless career, depart for some other town, having done the town no good, and leaving only unpaid bills and friends around the saloons.

The Mayor closes his letter with an appeal to the manufacturers and merchants to call a meeting and take steps looking to the employment of married men only in their factories and stores. This, he declares, will end the labor trouble of the town and raise the standard of citizenship.

VIOLENTLY

Insane Two Sisters Became—Placed in Custody After One Had Threatened Suicide.

New York, Aug. 17.—Two sisters, the Misses Louise and Hilda Henning, the first an actress, who a few years ago was a familiar figure on the New York stage, the second a talented musician, became violently insane in their apartments, at No. 177 East Seventy-sixth street Sunday. Three policemen forced their way to their flat in time to prevent the elder sister from throwing herself from the front window. The two young women were placed in the Psychopathic ward at Bellevue hospital.

Tenants in the house at Nos. 188 and 190 East Seventy-sixth street, have been frightened during the last 12 days by the actions of the yw way days by the actions of the sisters. The two young women, who heretofore had been quiet and modest, began singing wild songs at all hours of the night. They beat upon the walls, shouted from the windows, and apprehensive neighbors on the same floor say they heard them several times plotting to sprinkle kerosene on the floors and set the house afire.

With two swords which they inherited from their father, who was a soldier, the women indulged in fencing bouts. So fiercely did they fence that they inflicted serious wounds on one another, while the clashing of the weapons disturbed the sleep of residents in the house.

Both sisters have occupied the apartments for nearly four years. They were always reserved and quiet and rarely had visitors. Two brothers lived with them up to a year ago. The brothers and sisters came here from California. The elder brother a year ago went to California and is now said to be traveling about the world as an agent for a large commercial house in this city. The sisters said that their younger brother, Henry, had enlisted in the navy three months ago.

It was since the departure of the two brothers that eccentricity in the conduct of the two sisters became noticeable, and their fellow tenants seem to think that worry over the absence of their brothers affected the minds of the young women.

ELECTRICITY

Used by an Old Physician to Restore the Life of an Apparently Dead Baby.

Essex, Ont., Aug. 17.—Dr. James Brien an old practitioner of this place, says he was successful Thursday by means of electricity in restoring life to a child which had apparently been dead, after all old methods had failed. He says:

"Immediately after birth not a sign of life was visible. After all known remedies failed to revive the apparently lifeless babe it occurred to me to test electricity. I had never heard of such an experiment, and only decided to do so when the last spark of life had apparently fled. After 15 minutes' application of the galvanic and faradic current the infant showed signs of life, I increased the current and in 10 minutes more was dawning in seeing the child gasping and the heart beating normally. These strange facts are true, as I am prepared to prove and maintain, on oath."

Dr. Brien is one of the oldest physicians in Western Ontario.

Trans-Pacific Service.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 17.—The Russian government is about to inaugurate a trans-Pacific passenger and freight service to American ports. The minister of marine has issued an order to the effect that hereafter ships belonging to the Russian volunteer squadron which sail from Odessa to the far east, prolong their voyage to American Pacific ports, carrying passengers and freight. The first vessel to sail under the new order will be Smolensk. The date of sailing has not been decided on.

NO DEATH.

Believes This Writer, Who Created a Stormy Scene at the Funeral of Her Son.

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 17.—There was a highly sensational occurrence at the funeral of Albert Selby, a prominent young man of this city. His mother, Mrs. Mary Frame Selby, known as a writer and an advanced thinker, is one of those who believe there is no death. Rev. Allen Jay, one of the best known ministers of the Friends' Church, was called to preach the funeral.

In the course of his remarks he had occasion to refer to Mr. Selby as being dead. The mother upon hearing this remark groaned aloud, and at once bolted from the room. She created quite a stormy scene. She also took exceptions to the part taken in the funeral services, of the Masons, and would not accompany the body to Waynesville, Ohio, where the interment took place.

Mrs. Selby shed no tears over her son's death. She holds to the belief that there is no death and that it will not be long until the undertakers are out of business. She has been active for years in certain lines of philanthropic work.

The Boat Races.

New York, Aug. 17.—The cup racers Shamrock III and Reliance are ready for the American cup races. The big sloops lie today in adjoining dry docks at Erie basin, waiting to be measured tomorrow noon, when Charles Mower the official measurer, will pass the tape over the yachts to ascertain what time allowance may have to be granted. The question of time allowed is an important one and in case of a close race it may decide the winner. During the course of New York yacht club the Reliance's rudder was sprung. Repairs were effected yesterday and this morning by a Bristol workmen under the direction of Designer Nat Herresquoff.

Wink the Wizard.

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—The Grand Army encampment which formally opens here tomorrow, promises to be one of the best had in years, despite the distance most of the veterans have had to travel. There are now nearly 20,000 members of the G. A. R. in this city, and it is expected that several thousand will reach here today on delayed trains. The election of Gen. Black of Illinois, as commander-in-chief, is conceded by all. General El Torrance of Minneapolis, is strongly in favor of Black and his support has brought many delegations to vote for the Illinois man.

Your Health Depends on Your Kidneys

Every Reader Should Test the Wonderful Merits of this Great New Discovery

IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS

If you wish to be rich in health, you should be careful of your KIDNEYS as a good financier is of his cash capital. Your KIDNEYS are your capital. Your health depends principally on them. If you keep THEM well you may possess your health in safety. Now by this is not meant that good financing for your health is to overlook all the other organs and merely look after your KIDNEYS. Your other organs may need care, but your KIDNEYS most because they do most. If you are sick begin with your KIDNEYS, because just as soon as they are well, they will help all the other organs to health.

For a great many years it has been the custom for people to say: "My Blood is out of order, it needs purifying, I feel all used up, my skin needs clearing, my Brain feels tired." They generally go and get a laxative to purify their blood; but does blood run through the bowels?

Science proves that all the purifying that your blood needs, in fact all that can be done, must be done by your KIDNEYS. The KIDNEYS are filters. They strain and purify your blood. When your blood is impure nothing can purify but your KIDNEYS. When the KIDNEYS are clogged from overwork of any kind, worry, exposure or excesses, they can be set right by that wonderful new remedy known as IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS. They are a small wafer and pleasant to take. They are not a patent medicine or secret remedy, and the formula is cheerfully furnished to the numerous physicians who prescribe them in their practice, recognizing the efficiency of their ingredients, such as Buchu, Juniper Berries, Asparagus, and other valuable and purely vegetable extracts, which are so concentrated as to make them more than double their value.

be used with the exception of occasional years when there might be a concentration of the military of several states into one mammoth camp. The plan, he says, seems to be to have a regimental camp here one year, a brigade encampment following year and a division camp the third summer. If this idea is carried out the troops will come in single regiments next summer.

General Speaks said that the central idea of the new Dick law is to place the National Guard under control of the President of the United States. Before the law was passed the term "National Guard" was a misnomer. He believes the new law will result in the betterment of the Ohio Guardsmen's organization with no result objectionable to the people of Newark who bought and gave 140 acres of fine land to the state. So far the federal government has equipped the Guard with new Krag guns and has furnished a large number of new tents. Gen. Speaks says the improvements made on the ground here this season indicate that there is no idea of abandoning them. He thinks that about all of the permanent improvements necessary are now provided with the exception of a better way of getting rid of the refuse from the camp and the installation of a cold storage plant. The general does not believe in the erection of buildings for officers' headquarters. He thinks the officers should sleep in tents and "rough it" like the men do.

Call to quarters ..... 10:45 p. m.
Taps ..... 11:00 p. m.
All stated calls will be first sounded at Division Headquarters, and will be repeated by regiments, separate battalions, troops and batteries.

II. Setting-up drills for fifteen minutes will immediately follow reveille roll-call.

III. Police of quarters and grounds (U. S. Army Regulations, Par. 447) will immediately follow breakfast, except that in the cavalry and artillery this duty will immediately follow morning stable duty.

IV. Inspection of quarters, kitchens etc., will be made at six o'clock a. m. daily, by commanders of companies, bands, and detachments (U. S. Army Regulations, Par. 296). These inspections in the cases of troops and batteries will be made daily at such hour as will be fixed by the respective troop and battery commanders.

V. At Officers' call at 10:30 a. m. of officers' school will be held, continuing for one hour, each in charge of the senior officer present. In the infantry and engineers these schools will be held by regiments and separate battalions. All officers of artillery will unite in a single school. The officers of cavalry will unite in a single school or all will join that of the artillery officers, at their option.

VI. At school call non-commissioned officers' school will be held continuing for one hour. These schools will be organized in the same way as is provided in the case of officers' schools and each will be in charge of an officer detailed for that purpose by the respective regimental, separate battalion, troop, and battery commanders.

VII. Except in the case of private horses of officers, which are under their immediate control, the morning allowance of grain will be fed at reveille to all horses in camp; and horses will be watered before feeding grain at any time, or will not be watered until at least two hours after feeding grain—except in cases of necessity.

By Command of Major General Dick, George M. Wright, Lt. Col. & A. A. G., Adjutant General.

REGULAR ARMY MEN.

General Dick announced Sunday that four officers in the regular army have been ordered by the War Department for duty at Camp McKinley to act as inspecting officers. They represent three branches of the service, and are Major Arthur Williams, James S. Rogers, of the Third and Twentieth Infantry respectively, Major Edie of the Medical department and Captain Heron of the cavalry. These officers will arrive Monday and remain during the camp.

NAVAL RESERVES.

Col. C. B. Adams, retired, who has been ordered for special duty at Camp McKinley, is not expected to arrive before Tuesday morning at least.

Col. Adams went to Cleveland Saturday to muster the naval reserves who stanted on a practice cruise from Cleveland to Duluth.

The naval reserves belong to the Ohio National Guard, and occupy the same relative position to Navy that the division now encamped occupy to the U. S. army. The practice cruise they are now on corresponds in every detail to the encampment of the military branch.

DIVISION HEADQUARTERS.

General Dick arrived in camp with most of the members of his staff, on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was greatly pleased with all the arrangements that had been made and the prospects for a camp.

The headquarters of the division under command of Major General Dick have been established in the grove the tents being placed in the shape of an "L". Flanking General Dick on the west, just over the mound in the circle General McMaken has established First Brigade headquarters while General Speaks has established for his brigade in the north west corner of the grove.

NEW TENTS.

Some of the companies have in use the new regulation khaki colored conical tent, which will be used for the first time by the Ohio Guardsmen. They are large and well arranged and can be made to accommodate 12 men.

A GUN EXPERT.

Captain Blasis, of Battery A, expects to have as his guest during at least part of the camp week, Dr. McLane of Cleveland, who is one of the greatest experts on big guns in the country today. Dr. McLane has an invention by which the recoil of a heavy gun is reduced to a minimum, in fact is practically eliminated. This is done by Dr. McLane by utilizing the gasses generated in the explosion, to counteract the force of the recoil. Turkey, Russia, and several other foreign military powers have adopted the McLane invention and placed orders, which are to be filled at soon as a large plant, which will be built in Cleveland for its manufacture, is completed. He has guaranteed the United States government to "take up" half the recoil of the heavy guns on our battleships, and the reason the doctor did not accompany Battery A, was because he was expecting several government experts on Monday to examine his plans and models.

It is the recoil of the heavy pieces which is tearing the plates loose and otherwise damaging the battleships of the navy and experts say that Dr. McLane's invention will revolutionize the science of naval and artillery warfare.

A GRAND REVIEW.

General Dick said that he is not prepared as yet to announce any special features of the encampment further than that there will be at least one grand review of the division and various maneuvers that are possible with so large a body of men.

Asked if Mrs. Dick would be present the major general replied that an order had been issued regarding the entertainment of ladies in camp and he intimated that it would be a bad example for the commanding officer to violate the regulation. He said, however that ladies are very welcome in camp at all hours of the day and said that Mrs. Dick would no doubt be present at least one day during the week.

CAMP NOTES.

Capt. S. H. Howland of Toledo Battery D, came into camp at 5 o'clock Sunday morning and by noon had all the guns unloaded from the train.

The trains come in over the Toledo and Ohio Central at Showman's crossing about two miles west of camp. The men march into camp but the trains with baggage and equipment are switched to the trolley lines and with a powerful electric motor are taken into the camp ground where 1000 feet of side track has been laid.

The Toledo regiment the Sixth, came at 5 o'clock Sunday morning in command of a new officer, Colonel, former Major Howard. Col. Stanbery of Toledo for years commanded this famous regiment.

Colonel Harry Mead of the Third, wanted to get up to camp Sunday but the railroads busy with excursion business prevailed upon him to wait till Monday.

Brigade Surgeon F. C. Weaver of Dayton, on Gen. McMaken's staff, is present. The major says that there will be division of bridge hospitals at this camp but each regiment will have its own hospital.

Tomorrow morning facilities will be at hand for collecting and distributing the mail. Headquarters for this will be established near the Signal corps camp in the grove.

All of the officers of the Columbus barracks will be present at various times this week.

Major M. L. Wilson of Columbus, assistant adjutant general spent Sunday at the Second Brigade headquarters, pounding a typewriter most of the time. Major Wilson has a clerk to do this kind of work today.

OHIO REMAINS AT HOME.

No regiment from Ohio will take part in the maneuvers at West Point, Ky, this fall, but there will be an Ohio organization at those of next year, and it will be selected at the present camp.

It was almost decided to excuse one regiment from camp and send it to West Point, but it was not done.

An impartial board selected from regular army officers attending camp will judge the commands. The regiment passing the best inspection, not alone on dress parade, but in condition of men, quarters, etc., will represent Ohio at the next year's maneuvers. This regiment will not participate in any of the state camps next year, but the trip to West Point will take the place of the state camp.

UNIFORMS OF OLIVE DRAB.

All of the general officers and many of the staff officers with those of several of the regiments, have uniforms of the new olive-drab.

During next week a test of new model government targets and rifles will be held and there will be a number of regular officers to watch them. The targets are of a new pattern, and photographs will be taken for the war department of the work of the men at them.

The Ohio division camp is being closely watched by the department, and much of the future of the Ohio Guard will depend on the manner in which this camp is conducted.

General Dick has plans which, if carried out, will make the Ohio Guard second to none in the country, and the success of these plans depends largely on the reports which will be made to the war department by the officers detailed to look after the present encampment.

BATTERY'S ROUTINE.

Captain Blasis of the Cleveland Engineers had the following routine observed for the first time today:

First call, 5 a. m.; Reveille, 5:05; assembly call and setting up exercises, 5:20; stable and water call, 5:30; mess, 6:30; sick call, 7; fatigue call, 7:10; inspection of quarters, 7:20; boots and saddles, 7:30; recall, 11; stable and water call, 11:10; first sergeant's call 11:30; mess, 12 m.; non-commissioned officers' school 1:15 p. m.; boots and saddles and target practice, 1:45; recall, 4:20; stable and water, 4:30; mess, 5:20; first call for retreat, 5:50; assembly for retreat—roll call, 6; guard mounting, 6:10; assembly, 6:15; tattoo, 10; call to quarters, 10:20; taps, 10:30.

A fine bunch of 46 horses secured for the Battery A men, may be seen just west of the camp tied to a picket line, the horses being five feet apart on either side of the line. The work of stringing this rope was done by Lieut. Eddy who accompanied the 47 men from Cleveland to camp Sunday morning. Others have since come in making the total number of men today 60. The horses contrary to the usual custom are tied in the open, having no covering at all. Captain Blasis said he wanted to make the camp as near like the actual service as possible so erected no covering for the animals. Their location is in a good spot and the best of care is being taken of the animals.

TRUE ARMY STYLE.

The Battery men are roughing it in true regular army style. They have no floors in their tents, their straw ticks resting on the ground, but the ground is high and perfectly dry.

The officers of the Battery are: Captain Julius A. Blasis, First Lieutenant Walter E. Eddy, Second Lieutenant Howard A. Singletary, Captain and Assistant Surgeon, Herbert L. Davis. This is the Battery's 28th annual encampment and in recent years the Battery has camped annually at Newark.

Captain Blasis is almost as much pleased over the fact that the Toledo Battery D has been given new guns as is Captain Howland himself. For the past few years the Clevelanders have had things all their own way in the target practice but now that the Toledoans have new guns too it will make the competition more marked and will enable the two batteries to have some sharp competition.

THE ENGINEERS.

Major McQuigg of the Cleveland Engineers said this morning that now that he has all of the regiment's located and the drudgery of the camp work finished he is anxious to get to the more congenial work of his command. Providing the authorities will permit he wants to begin the construction of a bridge tomorrow over the creek. There are now 175 Engineers here not including the Kirk military band which arrived at noon today with 25 members. The Engineers are composed of machinists, carpenters, draughtsmen and men of nearly all the trades. This is their fourth camp at Newark. Major McQuigg, the commander, is a Cleveland lawyer.

BROKE EVEN

NEWARK AND URBANA EACH

A Warm Challenge Signed by the Local Club for a Series of Games. Sporting News.

It was even up between Idlewild and Urbana in two of the scrappiest games ever played in Newark, Saturday and Sunday, each team winning one game. As soon as the two teams lined up for the initial struggle it was seen that every nerve of every man was tense with excitement, and it was also apparent that the visitors were going to allow no opportunity to escape to indulge in senseless and disgusting kicking. This disposition on their part manifested itself throughout the two games, and on one occasion brought forth a storm of hisses from the stands when they left the field in the second inning of the second game. A more capable umpire than Jack McAllister has never been in Newark or any other city and a man of stricter honesty and integrity never called a ball or strike. He makes mistakes as every umpire will, but no player who knows the man, or is a true sportsman will question his honesty. Jack made several mistakes in the two games played here Saturday and Sunday, but in absolutely every instance where it cost anything, the Idlewild team was the sufferer. The Urbana team is made up of good players, but to indulge in the senseless kicking characterized them in the two games just played, is to demean themselves in the estimation of every one who sees them play.

A few Newark "knockers" who have consistently gone to the games and "pulled" for the visiting team to beat the Idlewild team, have become sore at the continued success of the team. They have been putting up 50 cent and $1 bets against the home team, until they saw it was a losing proposition, and Sunday none of their money was in sight. Urbana outplayed the locals and these "knockers" felt like idiots that they hadn't bet a cent and proceeded to vent their spleen by insulting remarks to the home players, and the umpire. Finally in the seventh inning of Sunday's game, they almost precipitated a riot by crowding on the base lines, and threatening Scott, one of the home players, who had rightly resented a foul epithet applied by Catcher Snodgrass. Men like this are a disgrace to themselves and to the city they call home.

As to the game, there is little to be said. The teams were evenly matched and the visitors were outplayed Saturday, while the home players met the same fate Sunday. Snyder pitched a masterly game Saturday and had all the best of Hanlon at critical stages. The fielding feature of this game was a one hand catch by McAllister in center and a stop by Tommy Francis.

In Sunday's game the visitors battled opportunely and were lucky in placing their hits in the crowd in the right field. The tabulated scores tell the stories of both games and they are appended:

Here is Urbana's Chance.

The management of the Idlewild baseball club are confident that the team representing Newark's park, is the superior of Urbana at any stage of the game and are willing to back this opinion to almost any extent. In view of the tie in the series just closed, the Idlewild management propose to Manager Murphy of Urbana, that the Idlewild team will play his team a series of games, five or seven, half the number to be played in Newark, and the other half in Urbana. To make the games more interesting the Idlewild management will post a side bet of from $100 to $250 that Idlewild wins the series. As a further incentive the local management proposes that the team which wins the series shall receive the entire gate receipts from all the games on both grounds.

If Manager Murphy thinks his team can defeat Idlewild here is the opportunity he has been looking for, as he can lay in his winter potatoes by accepting this deal and putting up his money in the hands of C. H. Spencer, associate editor of the Advocate.

"SKITZIE"

CONVICT WELL KNOWN IN NEWARK, ESCAPES PRISON.

Miller Who is Serving 15 Year Sentence for Killing a Woman, Takes French Leave.

William Miller, better known as "Skitzie" Miller, who is well known in Newark, made his escape from the Ohio penitentiary Saturday evening. The escape was the result of his taking advantage of the confidence reposed in him by the officers of the prison.

"Skitzie" was received at the prison from Franklin county on June 23, 1930, to serve a 15 year sentence for manslaughter. The crime he committed was the murder of Annie Mooney, his mistress. The woman wrote him a note on the day of the crime in which she told him she would not meet him at the place designated, but at that hour would be with Darby O'Harra at a certain place on Fifth street.

Miller had been drinking that day, and without any delay he proceeded to arm himself with a revolver. He went to No. 384 South Seventh street, where Annie happened to be, and fired two shots into her, one taking effect in the brain and the other in her back. She lived a few hours and died in the brothel where she was killed.

Miller made his escape and was finally captured in a Hocking Valley train by Detectives Wolf and Hamer. After being landed at the city prison he had delirium tremens, and it required great care to prevent him committing suicide.

After Miller reached the prison to commence his 15 year sentence he was a most excellent prisoner, and was given a position in the prison fire department. For years it has been a part of the duties of that department to keep Spring street clean in front of the prison. Each Saturday afternoon the street is flushed with hose, and that was the work Miller had been doing when he made his escape. The other men, for some unknown reason were not with him, and after the work had been done he remained about the prison for some hours. Just when he took "French leave" is not known, but he was missed about 8:30 p. m. when the police of the city were notified to be on the lookout for him. He was seen around the prison about a half hour prior to the time he was missed at least that is the claim made by some of the other prisoners.

Miller is a powerful man, and can easily be identified. He has been the sparring partner of Buck Steizer, and is very handy with his fists.

He is an applicant for parole, and the indications are that he would have been granted his freedom within a short time had he not violated his privileges as a trusty. He has relatives living in the southern part of the city.

The usual reward of $50 for his arrest will probably be offered by Warden Hershey as soon as the pictures and printing can be done.

OHIO STATE FAIR

To Be Held at Columbus On Aug. 31, Sept. 1, 2, 3, 4, 1933.

FINE INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITION

To Commemorate and Celebrate the One Hundredth Anniversary of the State.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS TO BE SHOWN.

Fifteen Great Exhibition Buildings and Grand Departments on the Attractive Grounds—High Class Special Features and Rare Amusements to Instruct and Entertain the Thousands of Visitors Who Will Attend.

The year 1903 marks the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Ohio, the grandest State in the great Union of States. A State whose history and progress is reflected around the world; whose importance and influence is recognized and pointed to as the safeguard and example of public thrift and public good; whose sons have been leaders in the highest councils of the land, and her daughters the brightest stars in woman's sphere.

How appropriate that in this particular year the citizens of Ohio should remember and celebrate this centennial anniversary of the State in a great exposition of the products of our skill and industry, in which all the people can participate. How appropriate ate for such an occasion will be the Ohio State Fair and Industrial Exposition, to be held at Columbus, August 31 and September 1, 2, 3 and 4, with its beautiful grounds and grand buildings for exhibition purposes. Here will be seen the several classes and breeds of our domestic animals, in their highest type of perfection; the products of the field, the garden, the orchard and the greenhouse; the beautiful and useful in art; the latest in all the conveniences and attractions for the home; the results of science and illustrations of educational methods; the finest and best of shop and factory production, and the wonderful inventions in machinery, so conspicuous in our progress since the days of our forefathers.

ONE OF THE ENTRANCES—OHIO STATE FAIR GROUNDS.

The facilities for such a general exhibition are so generously provided for on the State Fair Grounds that the Ohio State Board of Agriculture, as managers of the fair, has decided to make the exposition of 1903 a jubilee occasion, and has made extraordinary arrangements so that it shall be creditable to the State and to all who contribute to its success.

We are reminded of the great advancement of our favored State, when we remember the handful of men, under General Rufus Putnam, who landed at Fort Harmar on the 7th of April, 1788, and began laying the foundation for what was to become the flower of this now great Union.

Some question exists as to the month and day of Ohio's birth, but there is no question about the year, and there can be no question about the appropriateness of a hundredth anniversary celebration.

Ohio was started in a career that has given her fame in all the history of the State. Ohio was born great, and during her first hundred years has increased in greatness, in power, and in position among the States and countries with a rapidity unknown in the history of the world.

It is eminently proper and worthy the greatest attention on the part of the people of Ohio, that the exhibition of our industries at the State Fair of 1903 be commemorative of the centennial anniversary of the State, and to that end every county of the State should be represented by the best produced within the county, from the land, the factory, the shop, the school, the studio and the home, that the people may view with pride the glories of our productions and the results of our scientific labor and research. It is by such exhibitions that we are made acquainted with the industrial and general conditions of the State, as they more clearly than any other agency, present a true index of the times and also afford a stimulus for improving conditions and meeting demands that annually enlarge and press themselves upon our attention.

The State Fair is an educator of no small character. Its divisions are extensive. Its teachers are many, and their lessons the outcome of practical experience and proven results.

In this centennial anniversary of the State, the patriotism of every Buckeye will be aroused and the fires of his pride burn brightly. View the present in the grand exhibits of skill and genius as represented at the State Fair, and contemplate in the great panorama of our history that the stride has been from the unbroken forest to the cultivated fields, gardens, parks and improved highways we now enjoy; from the log hut to the palatial home; from the back-log to the use of nature's fuel stores from the howls of the earth; from the old oaken bucket to the automatic pump; from the spinning wheel and the old hand loom to the silk, cotton and woolen mills; from the flail to the steam thrasher; from the sickle and scythe to the mower and reaper with self-binding attachments; from the tallow dip to the electric light; from the conestoga wagon to the automobile; from horseback and stage transportation, at long intervals, to lightening transportation by steam and electricity, and the daily rural delivery of the mails; from slow messenger to the telephone; from the native cattle to the best improved breeds on earth; from the lowest types of all domestic animals to the finest stables, herds and flocks of every class and of breeds adapted to every particular purpose, and so on, limitless in description and almost beyond human conception, with the floodgates of improvement, invention and discovery opening wider each year to admit the increasing rush.

Have we reason to be proud of our achievements? Have we reason to meet as an intellectual and progressive people to view and compare the educational and industrial condition of today? Is not the Ohio State Fair and Industrial Exposition the place, appropriately held at the capital of the State; an institution of the people, fully equipped for the industrial occasion so manifestly proper in this particular year?

The exhibition of 1903, to be held August 31 to September 5, should be made a gala occasion, and our Ohio citizenship should prepare to contribute the best of their productions and attend in greater numbers than ever before. Not a single portion of the State should fail of representation.

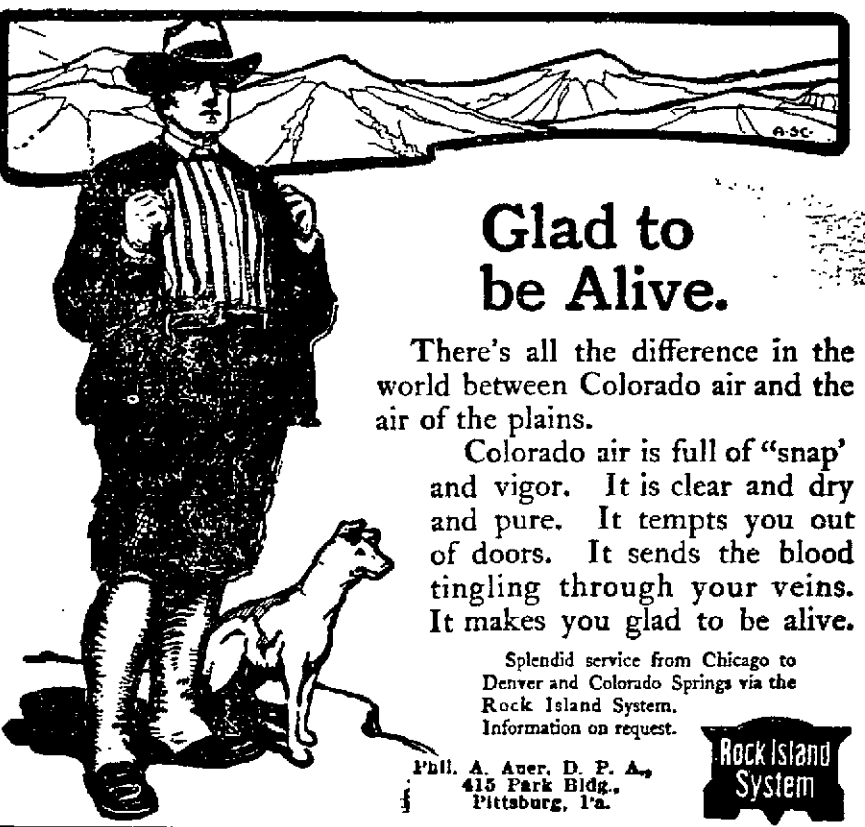

Arrangements are being made for the greatest numbers, and the railway and other accommodations will be the best.

Arrangements Made for Big Basket Picnic Next Thursday—Union Meeting.

Granville, O., Aug. 17.—Arrangements have all been completed for the big picnic to be held on Thursday, August 20, at Cat Run, four miles north of Granville, which is one of the most beautiful places in the county, to hold a picnic. The affair will be a basket picnic and will be under the auspices of Center Star Lodge and Fredonia Lodge of Masons. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. Frank Gillman, Prof. Beabout, Rev. Mr. Wylio, Dr. H. R. Hundley, Judge John M. Swartz, Hon. C. B. Giffin and others. Music will be furnished by the Cross Sisters and the Brushy Fork Sunday School.

Mr. Frank, W. Smith of Bellevue, O., spoke at the Union Young People's meeting at the Baptist church on Sunday evening. Mr. Smith was a prisoner of war in Andersonville, during the war of the rebellion, at the same time Rev. T. J. Sheppard of Granville, was a prisoner and who was chaplain in the big prison. During the week, Mr. Smith will talk to the young men at the soldiers' encampment at one of the Y. M. C. A. tents. This evening he will lecture on Andersonville. Mr. Smith has been engaged in Y. M. C. A. work for the past 12 or 15 years. While in Granville he was the guest of his old comrade, Rev. T. J. Sheppard.

Held by the Blacksmiths at Idlewild Park was a Jolly Affair on Saturday.

The picnic given Saturday at Idlewild park by the members of the National Horse-hoers' Association of Newark and Columbus was an enjoyable affair.

A large number of people from Columbus attended, the larger number coming to Newark over the Buckeye road. Many were present from All Vernon. The ball game between the cadets of Columbus and the Sluggers, both teams composed of blacksmiths, the former team of Columbus and the latter Newark men, resulted in a victory for the local team of 11 to 9.

The races—Free for all pace and trot:

Sister (Hull) first.
 George Burrs (B. B. Jones), second.
 Bessie P. (O. E. Price), third.
 Time—1:11 1-4, 1:08, 1:08 1-4.
 Free pace:

Don H., (Hankinson), first.
 Bessie P. (O. E. Price), second.
 Time—1:13 1-4, 1:11.

Green trot:
 P. P. C., (C. W. Colville), first.
 Stella G., second.
 Time—1:17 1-2, 1:13 3-4, 1:14.

Starter—Mr. Madden.
 The first prize for each race was $10 for first prize and $5 for second.

At Welsh Church

A reunion meeting will be held in the Welsh language, on Sunday afternoon, August 23, at 2 o'clock, sun time, in the First Congregational church, on North Fourth street. The pulpit will be occupied by Rev. Mr. Hammond, of Columbus. Good music will be provided.

The meeting will be under the direction of Pan-Racial Institute Chapter, No. 1, the local branch of the Welsh or Kymric department of the Pan-Racial Institute. Their purpose of the chapter in holding this meeting is to afford an occasion, under denominational auspices, for bringing together all persons, regardless of church connections, who may desire to worship in the Welsh language. So far as their names may be learned, effort will be made to provide a conveyance for all aged persons who may find it difficult or impossible otherwise to be present. Finally, a report will be made of books in the possession of the chapter that may be loaned to those who may wish to read them.

A special invitation is extended to friends in Granville, the Welsh Hills and other points, in the country, to attend.

A NOBLE WORK.

The Rev. Hiram Sears who tries to reach this vicinity once a year in the interest of the "Western Seamen's Friend Society," is in Newark again and presented his cause in six of our prominent churches Sunday. Establishing and maintaining missions in the dock and wharf districts of our numerous ports on our northern lakes and western rivers providing chapels, temperance boarding houses with reading rooms and bath rooms, and homes for orphaned children are objects of humanity and religion worthy of serious attention and liberal support. The larger ports support this kind of work well, but smaller ones are not able to do it and Mr. Sears will call on our generous citizens for their contribution to this work. A great work has been done during the past year and Mr. Sears is endeavoring with all the wisdom, zeal and energy of his advancing years to do a greater one this year. We certainly wish his great success in his work of humanity.

POLICE COURT

Quite an Array Before the Mayor on Monday Morning—An Assault Case is Continued.

The members of the police force surely earned their money Sunday night judging from the array of "talent" that greeted Mayor Crilly on his arrival at the Police Court Monday.

Captain of Police Howard and a number of officers raided the house kept by May Bernard and captured the proprietress and a number of the inmates and several visitors. The Bernard woman was fined $10 and cost, which she paid and Dora Kirk, Mabel Jones, Jennie Johnson, May Smith and Zipp Raymond, inmates, were fined $1 and costs, which was paid. H. D. Richards, William Bradley, Frank Brascott, victors, each forfeited $10 bail, and Raymond Brick and Jacob Clouse arrested on the same charge, were fined $1 and cost each. Gldys Brown claimed to be working at the house and was discharged.

Edward Burk was arrested by Officers Swank and Haker on the charge of being drunk and sleeping on the sidewalk. The Mayor assessed a fine of $5 and costs in this case.

Frank Davis, who was arrested by Officer Zergiebel on the charge of loitering, was dismissed.

Thomas Martin, prowling, arrested by Officer Sutton, was dismissed.

Caleb Smith, colored, arrested on a complaint of U. G. Craig, the colored saloon keeper, on the charge of flourishing a razor in his place was bound over to the Common Pleas Court in the sum of $50 and in default of bail, was committed to the county jail.

Edward Mills, charged with making an assault on Jack Lenz, and breaking his jaw, was arrested by Officers Zergiebel and Carroll. On account of the prosecuting witness being unable to attend court the case was continued until Tuesday.

BADLY HURT

On the Eve of His Wedding—Misfortune to Mr. Ora Barnes of Licking County.

Mr. Ora Barnes youngest son of Mr. Stewart Barnes, a well known resident of Mary Ann township, met with a very serious and painful accident on Wednesday evening of last week. He was riding his wheel after dark on his way home, when the wheel struck an unseen obstacle in the road and he was thrown heavily to the ground. The handle bar of the wheel struck him in the side, inflicting a very painful injury as he fell. His condition has been quite serious since the accident although it is now thought that he is out of danger. The accident was especially unfortunate as he was to have been married Tuesday.
